ACR continues to provide capacity notwithstanding the Thailand floods

- ACR remains firmly committed to Asia

Singapore, November 25, 2011 – Thailand is currently experiencing its worst floods in 50 years, with the prolonged flooding situation since July taking a massive toll on individuals, communities and businesses across northern, northeastern and central Thailand. Asia Capital Reinsurance Group (ACR) would like to extend our deepest sympathies to those affected by the situation.

While the market is still assessing the full impact of the event, ACR's current view based on our exposures in Thailand is that we do not expect any significant impact on our business operations. ACR continues to provide capacity and services to the markets across Asia, including Thailand.

ACR remains firmly In Asia. For Asia, and is dedicated to supporting the region through stable reinsurance solutions. For details of our financial information, please visit the Financial Highlights and Annual Reports sections on our website.
