ACR opens Japan Representative Office in Tokyo

Singapore, May 31, 2010 – Asia Capital Reinsurance Group (ACR) has opened a new representative office in Tokyo, Japan as part of its regional expansion plan. Japan, currently the largest non-life reinsurance market in Asia, will provide ACR with abundant opportunities for growth.

The new office is headed by industry veteran Mr Atsushi Gamo, Chief Representative, who brings to ACR local and international industry perspectives from his underwriting and senior management roles in Japan and overseas including the U.S., Canada and Europe. He has also contributed greatly to the development and understanding of the non-life insurance sector and related businesses through research and educational work for the East Asian and Japanese insurance practitioners and governmental officials. As a testament to his in-depth industry knowledge, he worked with the Japanese Regulator Financial Services Agency (FSA) as a co-Chairman and editor of a Reinsurance Study Group to produce the REINSURANCE STUDY REPORT 2003.

Mr Gamo, on the role of the new Japanese office, said, “A physical presence in Japan will provide us greater ease to entrench our ACR brand more effectively within the market. It will also bring us closer to providing seamless and ongoing reinsurance support to our clients and partners with businesses in Japan.”

This latest extension of our Asian network, in addition to our offices and affiliates in Singapore, Hong Kong, Taiwan, India, Dubai, Bahrain and Malaysia, enhances ACR’s capabilities and reach across Asia.
